IMPORTANT: Students are required to complete all course work. After the course work is successfully completed, students are no longer required to attend summer school. Students will receive a weekly progress report. A letter will be mailed home at the end of summer school to all attendees indicating whether or not the course(s) attempted was completed. Remember that attendance does not guarantee completion of course.

Students are expected to be on time and present each day, stay focused and engaged, and comply with all school rules.

PARENT & STUDENT, READ & SIGN:

I understand the expectations for summer school, and I am aware that failure to comply with any expectation will result in removal from summer school and loss of opportunity to earn the credit attempted. I also understand that my student must complete all requirements and earn a passing grade in order to recover a course credit and that attendance does not guarantee the student will earn credit(s).
